WHAT'S UP WITH THE SKY?

QUÈ LI PASSA AL CEL?

BY IRENE IBORRA RIZO

The sun rises happily over the horizon and is welcomed by the most beautiful landscape. The humans are also waking up and do what they always do: cutting down trees, constructing senselessly and polluting without shame. Their ideas and actions, which are not necessarily treating the Earth with respect, are turning the environment upside down. What they do not realize, is that whatever they do will affect them sooner or later. But the cosmos is not that patient.
