THE INHERITED SILENCE

O SILENCIO HERDADO

BY LUCÍA DAPENA GONZÁLEZ

Lucía approaches her grandmother Edilia looking for answers, but finds only silence. Edilia's silence is long, deep-rooted. A dark, painful silence, impossible to break. When Lucía understands that Edilia will never give her the answers she is looking for, she decides to look at this silence, to listen to it with patience and determination, trying to understand it. Edilia, perhaps willingly, perhaps unwillingly, will accompany her. *Together they explore the limits of word and image, making that silence their meeting place.
