

UNSUSTAINABLE, ON THE WASTE TRAIL

INSOSTENIBLE, RERE LA BROSSA

BY CHRISTOPHE SION

Every day, thousands of ships cross the seas and oceans around the world carrying rubbish. Far from what people might think, waste is not only transferred from first world countries to developing regions of the planet. Rubbish also circulates between rich countries, in the European Union. One of these routes connects Italy and Catalonia through the ports of Naples and Tarragona.
