GÁDOR AND THE SHARKS

GÁDOR I ELS TAURONS

BY ORIOL GISPert

Gádor Muntaner is an oceanographer because at the age of 15, she discovered sharks and fell in love with them. Since then, she has not stopped in her efforts to protect them and prevent their fishing. We will accompany Gádor on a unique journey where we will see her dedication and get to know another side of sharks, which are endangered in many places. We will visit three seas, encountering sharks in each location. In Mallorca, where it all began, we discuss the Mediterranean. In Mexico, sharks are still being fished, and Gádor is working to change the business model. Finally, we end up in the Maldives, where we witness the increase in the tiger shark population due to the protection they have received, although in other parts of the atolls, there are floating plastic islands.
