

THE HOUR OF THE ANT

BY MICAH VAN HOVE

Deep in the Amazon jungle, Chino works as a transporter for an illegal gold mining organisation, but he is consumed by one thing: finding the snake that killed his dog. Together with Poálo, his partner, Chino sets up traps for the snake along the banks of the river. When he finds the body of an American in one of his traps, alarms begin to sound in the mining organisation. Chino continues to hunt the anaconda, but who is hunting who? He suddenly finds himself drowning in a dead end, his only option is to go through that organisation from start to finish.
