

RAGE RÀBIA

BY BERNAT GUAL, ANTONI ALOY

Upon his release from prison, life seems to grant Puskas a second chance when Taylor, a dog, starts following him everywhere and becomes his best friend. He fantasizes about the beginning of a profound redemption. But Bellavista, his old neighbourhood, is no place for redemption. It is a hell of tourism and drunkenness, overrun by mafias, drugs and ugly, crowded bars. A place full of rage. And since hell can be there, just around the corner waiting for the moment to come out and put an end to hopes, the rage will fall on Taylor and some of the local residents. How will Puskas now seek his redemption? Revenge or temperance.
