

PETROLEO

PETROLI

BY ÁLVARO PULPEIRO

Driven by the energy crisis, Juan (36), an engineer sent from the West, delves into Venezuela with the task of evaluating one of the world's largest oil fields. After a dizzying journey, he is unable to carry out the study and, fearful of betrayal by his local contact, flees with the help of Andrea (30), a young woman who begins her own path into exile.
